

Money Management sheets for Little Girls

Thank you for downloading this pack for your daughter. Teaching her how to manage money from an early age is an investment in her future that can empower her to make responsible financial decisions throughout her life.

By introducing financial concepts early, you can help her develop important skills like budgeting, saving, and understanding the value of money.

This early education can create a sense of financial independence and confidence that will help her as she grows and matures.

Also, teaching young girls about money will make them more likely to achieve their savings goals, no matter what their age. For example, a little girl under the age of 10 may want to save for a special toy, a preteen may save for the latest 'must-have' sneakers, and a teenager may save for her first car!

This pack is a great place to start. It includes the following sheets:

- Pocket Money Contract
- Money Tracker (two versions)
- Needs and Wants Sheet
- Savings Tracker
- 40 Deposits Money Challenge
- 100 Deposits Money Challenge

I recommend to start with the 'Pocket Money Contract', and lock in a weekly allowance amount. After that, you can guide your daughter through the 'Money Tracker' and help her decide how to divide up her weekly pocket money.

She can use the remaining sheets as or when required.

Best of luck!
