

Fun quiz for your daughter to complete

This is a fun quiz that really highlights the true meaning of the generation gap!

In the following pages, you'll find some very popular sayings and songs that most adults know. My daughter would describe them as being from "the olden days".

For fun, ask her to complete the missing words.

Depending on your daughter's age, there are three ways she can complete the quiz.

1. You can print the questions out and ask her to write down her answers.
2. You can read the questions out to her and have her tell you her answers.
3. You can read the questions out to her and record or videotape her responses. This would be a lovely keepsake for you that you can replay in years to come.

I hope you have fun with this!
